LEARN HOW TO CAMP FOR FREE AND HELP FUND THE MEADOWBROOK ENDOWMENT FUND

The Friends of Meadowbrook in partnership with a "green energy" solar company has put together a plan whereby a person can use their income tax money to purchase solar lenses which qualifies the individual for a tax credit (which would be equal to the money you pay in income taxes). The solar lenses that you would purchase would also qualify for depreciation on your tax return. This would give you $1.50 back for every dollar spent on "green energy". This program was enacted by Congress to stimulate the alternative energy development. The program is good through the year 2016. The tax year for 2011 has two additional incentives. The government is offering a 5 year look back for you to claim your past tax dollars for purchase of "green energy" equipment and a special 100% depreciation write off for purchases this tax year. So your savings would be even greater.

Example

A seasonal camper at Meadowbrook spends between $1,145 to $1,170 for a seasonal lot.

The price of one solar lens is	$1,050.
The depreciation of this lens is	$900	(or $3,500 one time 100% depreciation)
The total tax savings is	$1,950.
Camp Lease is	$1,170
You have gained	$ 780	(If you want to get all your tax dollars back just divide your total tax due by $1,050 and then purchase that number of solar lenses.)

At the same time by making your "green energy" purchase thru the Meadowbrook Park portal at the RAPower3 web site, the park earns the sales commission and this is deposited into the Paul R Glick Memorial Fund which is administered by the Tiffin Charitable Trust. The Glick Fund was established for the benefit of Meadowbrook Park. Each year the interest from the fund is transferred to Meadowbrook Park.

This program is good for the next 4 years. If each camper would use their tax dollars to purchase "green energy" solar lenses for next four years, Meadowbrook Park could have an endowment fund worth more than 2 million dollars.
